"The Market Continues to Rise"

Market today: The Market Continues to Rise

(Quang Vo – Ext: 1517)

The VN-Index urged Wednesday, supported by banking stocks along with some large caps including VNM, GAS and VIC. We view the market moves today with positive signs, based not only on the increase in the index but also on the wide spread of inflows. We have seen all the VN-30 (745.79, +1.07%), the VN-MID (773.88, +0.86%), and the VN-SML (921.81, +1.43%) enjoy strong inflows; this, along with the appearance of gainers in many industries including banking, real estate, pharmaceutical, fertilizer, and building material space, has shown current positive market sentiment. That said, the market liquidity, although increased by 24% to VND3.200 billion, remained below the monthly average of VND3.300 billion.

GAS led the market last several sessions, following its positive public earning results. The company released its 1H17 results with sales of VND32,573 billion (+9.7%), supported mainly by increasing FO oil prices. The improvement of GAS's gross profit margin from 16.6% to 20% also helped to boost PAT by 31.3% to VND4.087 billion. However, our O&G analyst doesn't expect a positive outlook for 2H17, unless oil prices will improve further. That said, GAS could record an extraordinary profit in 2H17 from the divestment from PGD. According to our estimate, the profit can be up to VND854 billion.

Overall, the positive market sentiment supported many stocks, even the ones having negative earnings. Investors seem to ignore what happened to these stocks on July 17 and July 21 sessions. We currently hold the view that the market will not bottom out soon, and thus investing in stocks having strong results will be less risky. To make it easier for investors to watch business performances, we are summarizing these companies' results in our daily reports (please see the table below), as well as in Analyst Pin-board column.
