Market today: Unwanted green

(Thien Bui – Ext: 1321)

Market experienced strong volatility. VNIndex moved forward strongly. However, sellers came in aggressively and force VNIndex to lose its momentum. Some bluechips that regained such as BVH (+VND2,700/share), CTG (+VND350/share), GAS (+VND100/share) with VCB and VNM back to reference supported VNIndex to close higher 1.15 pts than yesterday level. On the other hand, HNIndex could not reverse and still put down 0.29 pt. Liquidity increased as there was more than VND3,500 billion worth of shares successfully traded.

Many investors kept their eyes on shares of steel producers, evidently HPG accounted for 10% of total traded volume and 18% of total traded value. We saw HPG, HSG and NKG decreasing due to the the news on The U.S. International Trade Commission initiating investigation on Vietnam's cold rolled steel. American steel companies have proposed an investigation on the rising import volumes due to a possible AD duty evasion by China, which inspects flat steel's semi-products (HS code 7209, 7210, 7211 and 7212). Meanwhile, HSG and NKG, being two leading flat steel producers in Vietnam, mainly export finished products such as GI, GL and pre-painted steel to the US market, which leads RongViet Research to believe the mentioned companies are not negatively influenced by the investigation.

""Unwanted green"

As a matter of fact, steel producers are looking forward to Q3 and Q4/2016 positive earnings results thanks to increasing domestic construction demand and selling prices supporting by countervailing duty. Hereunder is RongViet's forecast on HSG, HPG and NKG:

Table: Forecast on 2016 results of major steel companies

Tickers	FY2016 NPAT (VND bn)	yoy	EPS (dong)	Forward P/E
HPG	5,834	+68%	6,547	6.71
HSG*	1,463	+24%	7,164	5.53
NKG	524	+316%	6,813	5.65

*Source: RongViet Research, 2015-2016FY

Correction spread to most of shares. Today was supposed to close lower. BVH and GAS are taking place for VNM and VCB as new leaders. Investors may be in an "uneasy" mood as their portfolios are not as positive as VNIndex (actually, VNIndex is a biased by BVH and VCB) or even their profit is corroded. Therefore, VNIndex closing in "unwanted" green could bring an adverse effect on investors' sentiment. If investors turn to sellers at this moment, there will be possibility that they will miss good stocks for Q3/2016 earnings. Hence, maintaining a reasonable ratio of stocks and cash is recommended. The VNIndex could be biased by a few bluechips so it would be better to act base on different stocks with different expectations of their future prospects.
